The county court late Saturday afternoon sent back the books of Emmet Bartram, collector of Polk township, and Joseph Barnes, collector of Washington township, on account of some taxes which are yet unpaid. It was understood the books of Mr. Bartram were returned on account of a question whether an estate should pay taxes to the township or the city.

The court ordered George R. Chamberlain, about 70 years, sent to the State Hospital No. 2 at St. Joseph.

COLLEGE HERE MEANS MUCH

BRINGS MARYVILLE AT LEAST $600,000 YEARLY SAYS LAMKIN.

URGES 71 COMPLETION

All Other State Schools Connected by Paving, He Tells C. of C.—Hull Urges Public Improvements.

At least $600,000 a year is brought or kept in Maryville by the Northwest Missouri State Teachers College, it was estimated by Uel W. Lamkin, president of the college, at a Chamber of Commerce luncheon today at the Linville hotel.

Today's open meeting, it was announced by W. J. Montgomery, president of the chamber, had been called with no special significance, other than to gain a better attendance than has been the case at recent meetings of the board of directors. The desire was fulfilled, and the attendance was swelled further when members of the Men's Monday Forum adjourned their discussion and joined the Chamber of Commerce meeting.

L. M. Eck, whom Mr. Montgomery asked to preside, characterized the gathering as a "clearing house for ideas." Several men were called upon for informal talks.

8,000 Students One Month.

Attendance at the College here, Mr. Lamkin said, was equivalent to 8,000 students here for one month. At a conservative estimate of $40 a month, $30 for food and room, and $10 for other things—he calculated that they would spend in Maryville at least $300,000. To this he added $300,000 of maintenance funds from the state, most of which is spent here.

"This averages $50,000 a month, or $10 a month for every man, woman and child in Maryville," he pointed out. Part of the money is spent by students who live in Maryville but who would be attending school elsewhere if the college were not here, he said.

In addition, the president cited the recent basketball tournament, which brought 150 to 175 persons here from distances of more than fifty miles; the approaching high school contests in April, which have 1,200 contestants enrolled, not counting delegations which accompany them; the recent Farmers' Week, which it is hoped can be made an annual affair; and the annual meeting of the teachers association, which brings from 750 to 1,500 teachers here, "anxious to spend their first month's salary."

Larger Than Any Other.

The enrollment at the spring contests, he asserted, is larger than at any other point in the state, not excepting the University of Missouri.

The president took exception to a published statement that Warrensburg had been ranked first among all the teachers colleges in the United States. He made the same explanation as made in the Democrat-Forum several days ago, that the highest rating made at the N. E. A. meeting in Boston included twenty-three schools, in which Maryville and three other Missouri teachers colleges were included, with none placed above the rest.

The College here, Mr. Lamkin said, intended to ask the North Central Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges for recognition as a standard college as well as a teachers college, but intimated that the "jealousy" of independent colleges probably would result in denial of the request.

"Get it into your heads, and those of other people that this college has just as good work and just as good ranking as any school in the country," he urged.

He declared 700 to 750 students the ideal attendance from an administrative standpoint, and said the college here

WORDS HARD FOR SPELLERS

VIRGINIA EDWARDS, HARMONY, FIRST IN COUNTY CONTEST.

RIGHT ON 379 OF 400

Grade and Rural Pupils, Spelling Same List, Encounter More Difficulties.

The winners to represent Nodaway county in the district spelling contest to be held at the State Teachers College Friday were selected this morning at the College when fifteen high school, elementary and rural school students took part.

In the high school division, Virginia Edwards, Harmony High, was first. She misspelled twenty-one words out of 400. Coral Jackson, Harmony High, was second, misspelling twenty-three words out of 400.

In the elementary division, Dorothy Alice Craven of the Casteel Ward school of the Harmony Consolidated district, took first place. She missed seventy-eight words out of 400. Roberta Warren of the Maryville Central grade school was second, missing 100 out of 400 words.

In the rural division, Bertha Spire of Lasher school placed first when she spelled 251 out of 400, with Chester Kime of Belle Grove second by spelling 229 out of 400.

Miss Elizabeth White pronounced the words. She was assisted by W. I. Lewis, Herbert Dieterich, W. H. Burr, Mrs. Halley Ford, Miss Doris DeWitt and Earl Somerville. The same list was used for all three divisions.

Others taking part in the contest were:

LaVada Strader, Harmony High School; Marguerite Thompson, Gaynor High; Laveta Archer, Gaynor; Garland Johnson, Gaynor; Winifred Edwards, Pioneer ward, Harmony Consolidated; Marie Schooler, Belle Grove; Henry Lambert, Mt. Joy; Thelma Mattson, Bedison; and Elsie Snyder, Bedison.

The words given were very difficult, as shown by a perusal of the list, although most of them are commonly used terms. Some of the "stumbling blocks" discovered by the graders were, abstinence, corrigible, centenarian, celestial, elegibility, obnoxious, maniac, initial, catarrh, tragedy, picturesque, substantial, rythm, andante, psychology, auxiliary, conservatively. "Pandemonium" and similar long words ordinarily failed to catch the spellers, while shorter words did.

The following are the winners of county spelling contests certified to the State Teachers College and who will take part in the district contest on Friday here:

Andrew County, Cecil Jenkins superintendent. High School division—Miss Doris Patton, Helena High School, first; Miss Doris Boyer, Fillmore High School, second; Mrs. Eugene Larmer of Helena, chaperon. ## Bill Before Congress to Aid Poor Children

Appropriates $75,000,000 for Relief in Coal Strike and Agricultural Sections.

Washington, March 12.—An appropriation of $75,000,000 for relief of children of unemployed in the coal strike regions and in agricultural sections was provided in identical bills introduced in the House and Senate today.

These measures, designed primarily to aid suffering miners' children in Pennsylvania, were submitted by Representative LaGuardia, Republican, New York, and Senator Wheeler, Democrat, Montana.

Under the bills, distribution of relief funds would be directed by a special board composed of the Secretary of Labor, chief of the women's bureau of the labor department and the Secretary of Agriculture.

CONFESSES HE IS THE KILLER

3 WOMEN DIE AT HANDS OF FAMILY CHAUFFEUR.

WITHHOLD THE MOTIVE

Mrs. J. W. Jurgens, Her Mother and Daughter, All of San Angelo, Tex. The Victims.

Sulphur Springs, Texas, March 12.—A complete confession of the maniacal murders of Mrs. J. W. Juergens, her mother, Mrs. Rose Schirra, and her daughter, Myrna Juergens, was signed here today by Newton Byrnes, chauffeur for the Juergens family, Sheriff Frank Flippen announced.

The three women were brutally beaten and stabbed to death as they were retiring in the Juergens home at San Angelo a week ago Saturday night, Byrnes said.

Gives Details.

Byrnes said he remained in San Angelo until March 6, when he drove away in the Juergens automobile. He abandoned the car at a small town between Waco and Austin and rode the train to this city.

Sheriff Bob Hewitt of San Angelo arrived while the confession was being made. Hewitt announced that Byrnes would be returned to San Angelo at once. Three charges of murder have been filed against him at San Angelo.

Byrnes motive for the murder "is not transmittable by telephone or telegraph," Chief of Police Sam Haynes said he had been informed by Sheriff Hewitt. Hewitt is at Sulphur Springs, to return Byrnes to San Angelo.

The mutilated and decomposed bodies were not found until late Sunday when a neighbor found the home locked and called police.

Byrnes has been formally charged with the murders. He was last seen here March 6 when he borrowed $2 from Hugh Allen, a neighbor.

Byrnes had been employed by the Juergens several years. He came here with the family four years ago from Pittsburgh, Pa.

Home Ransacked.

The Juergens home had been ransacked in what police believe was an attempt to cover the motive for the murders. Both Mrs. Juergens and Mrs. Schirra were scantily clad and were laying face down on beds. The girl's body had been stabbed more than a dozen times about the heart with an ice pick.

The room of death was a scene of utmost confusion. The walls, floors and furniture were spattered with blood. The daughter, after having been horribly stabbed and mutilated, had been impaled on a bed post.

The two elder women had been disemboweled and hacked about the face with a hatchet.

The daughter was called from the play ground of the Academy of the Immaculate Conception on the afternoon of March 2 for Byrnes, school authorities said. They said she left so suddenly that they did not have an opportunity to question her before she left.

It is believed today that the murders occurred on the night of March 3.

Weather

Cloudy and colder tonight and Tuesday; probably a shower tonight. Minimum temperature above freezing.

THE "INSIDE" OF HAYS DEAL

G. O. P. CHAIRMAN IGNORANT OF FALL BRIBE, IT IS SAID.

REFUSED BY MELLON

Efforts to Pay Back Sinclair Unsuccessful.—Senate Committee Wants More Details.

By PAUL R. MALLON
United Press Staff Correspondent

Washington, Mar. 12.—The inside story of Harry Sinclair's Republican campaign contribution was told in detail to the United Press today by a responsible authority.

The revelation came just as the Teapot Dome committee was preparing to summon for tomorrow Chairman William M. Butler of the Republican National Committee, former Chairman Will H. Hayes, and perhaps Secretary of the Treasury Andrew Mellon to find out what more they may know about the matter.

In 1923, according to this first connected of the Sinclair contribution, Butler called on Hays to help raise money for the campaign deficit of $600,000 or $700,000, which Hays had incurred in electing President Harding in 1920.

Gets $260,000 From Sinclair.

Hays was unable to obtain all the money from the usual sources and went to Harry Sinclair, the recently indicted oil magnate. From Sinclair he obtained $260,000 in Liberty bonds as he has testified. Then came the Senate committee's expose about Sinclair's "loan" of $233,000 to former Secretary of Interior Fall, from whom he obtained a lease on the Teapot Dome naval oil reserves.

Hays did not know about the Fall affair when he dunned Sinclair for a contribution, the informant said. When he did find out about it, he made every effort to raise $260,000 to pay Sinclair.

He did raise $100,000, it was said, but was unable to pay back the $160,000, because none of the wealthy Republicans wanted to pay for an old campaign with the new 1924 campaign coming on.

In desperation Hays then went to several wealthy men of the party and attempted to persuade them to take over the remaining bonds from Sinclair. He is said to have seen Mellon, Butler, former Secretary of War John W. Weeks, the late John T. Pratt of New York, Senator T. Coleman Dupont of Delaware and others.

Refused by Mellon.

Mellon has announced he refused to accept $50,000 which Hays wanted him to take. Pratt took $50,000. DuPont handled $75,000 and Weeks absorbed $25,000. Butler's action in the matter is not known. Some of the men are

Newspapers Merge at Poplar Bluff

Only 3 Cities in Missouri Outside of St. Louis and Kansas Citw Have Two Afternoon Papers Now.

Poplar Bluff, Mo., Mar. 12.—The Poplar Bluff Interstate American, an afternoon newspaper, ceased publication today following successive sales of the property to Charles C. Oliver, Bloomfield, Mo., and then to the Poplar Bluff Publishing Company, publishers of the daily Republican, also an afternoon newspaper here.

Following acquisition of the Interstate-American by the Poplar Bluff Publishing Company, J. H. Wolfers, President, announced discontinuance of the newly acquired property and simultaneously the change of name of the Daily Republican to the American Republic.

The Interstate-American was published by the Citizens Printing Company, State Senator Dwight H. Brown, president and editor. Brown announced following the sale that he planned to devote his time to his campaign for the Democratic nomination for Secretary of State of Missouri.

Discontinuance of the Poplar Bluff Interstate-American here reduces to three the number of cities and towns outside of St. Louis and Kansas City in Missouri which are served by two afternoon newspapers.

Numerous consolidations in the past year have left Columbia, Mexico and St. Charles only with two afternoon papers. The papers at Columbia are the Missourian and Tribune; at Mexico the Leader and Intelligencer, and St. Charles the Cosmoc Monitor and the Banner News.

LOWDEN ISSUE IS THE FARM

"ECONOMIC, NOT ALCOHOLIC," SAYS ILLINOIS CANDIDATE.

NOT ENTERED IN RACE

Presidential Contender Appears More Interested in Spring Planting.

(Copyright 1928 by United Press)

Oregon, Ill., March 12.—The fundamental issue before the country in this year's presidential campaign is economic, not alcoholic, and the battle for ballots will be fought over farm relief, Frank O. Lowden believes.

"The great problem before the country," he said in an exclusive interview at his estate, Sinnissippi Farm, near here, "is the restoration of a proper balance between industry and agriculture in the interest of the sane, healthy development of the country."

That, in more specific terms, means farm relief through some such plan as that contained in the much discussed McNary-Haugen bill, including the equalization fee "or some acceptable substitute," Lowden said.

Prohibition, Lowden believed, had been over-emphasized. The Eighteenth Amendment is in the constitution and is unlikely to be taken out; and as to proposals to permit states to decide for themselves what percentage of alcohol to permit in liquor—"the Federal government cannot abdicate in favor of the states when a mandate has been laid upon it by the Constitution."

Not Formally in Race.

Although Lowden is generally regarded as one of the leading candidates for the Republican presidential nomination—forty-seven convention delegates already are pledges to him and he is conceded control of the illinois and North Dakota delegations in addition—he is not formally in the race. He has not announced in so many words that he is seeking the Republican nomination, and he refers to himself as "one who is charged with being a candidate." He has made no speeches to further his candidacy and so far has made no plans for any sort of an active personal campaign.

After a month's vacation in Arizona, he has returned to his farm with every indication of staying there; and he gave the impression that he was more interested in spring planting and in horseback riding than in delegates.

Nevertheless he had very definite ideas of how the major problems before the country should be solved.

For Conservation, Waterways.

Conservation of natural resources, flood control and development of inland waterways are of vital importance, he said. He decried the "short-sighted, wasteful policy" the nation has pursued with its forests and mineral resources.

Flood control, he said, is a national problem, not local, and should be paid for by the nation. The loss from floods is assessed against the nation as a whole as well as against the particular districts affected, and the cost of prevention also should be distributed, he explained.

A mixed commission of army engineers and civilian experts in agriculture, reforestation, transportation and water power development should be appointed to consider the problem in all its ramifications and recommend a solution, he said.

Lowden is in favor of maintaining an "adequate military and naval establish-

OPEN FIRE ON MELLON

SECRETARY'S RESIGNATION IS DEMANDED IN SENATE.

G.O.P. CHIEFS CALLED

Oil Investigating Committee to Hear Mellon, Hays and Butler.—Scored by Robinson and Reed.

Washington, Mar. 12.—A demand for resignation of Secretary of Treasury Mellon and a Democratic denunciation of the Sinclair contribution to the Republican party as the "the price of Republican treachery to the nation," came in the Senate today as a result of recent Teapot Dome disclosure.

The developments included:

1—A statement by Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, that President Coolidge should have asked for Mellon's resignation as soon as he learned of Mellon's Saturday night, admitting knowledge of the Harry Sinclair contribution.

2—A speech to the Senate by Senator Robinson, Democratic floor leader, declaring that the Sinclair campaign gift of $160,000 could not now be atoned for by restoring the money to Sinclair because the contribution represented "the price of Republican treachery to the nation."

Mellon, Hays, Butler Called.

3—Formal summoning of Mellon, Will H. Hays, former chairman the Republican national committee, and William M. Butler, present chairman, to appear before the Teapot Dome committee tomorrow to testify about their participation in the contribution affair.

4—Announcement by Senator Borah of Idaho that he is progressing with his movement to have Republicans make up a fund to repay the Sinclair contribution. One wealthy Republican who could pay the whole amount has communicated with him, Borah said.

Robinson's speech went unanswered in the Senate.

Reed Would Prosecute.

St. Louis, Mo., Mar. 12.—United States Senator James A. Reed, stopping here today en route to address the Kentucky legislature, urged "application of the conspiracy statute to the prosecution of guilty persons in this oil mess."

If federal authorities would apply that statute as they do in the case of smaller criminals, what would be the harvest?" he asked.

The Democratic presidential candidate dismissed as "the end of a campaign of deceiving the public" the suggestion of Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, that the Republican party pay back campaign contributions received from persons involved in the scandal.

"Bought, caught, remorse, restitution, righteousness; that's it; pay back the money and absolve the crime," he said. "It is the end of a campaign of deceiving the public."

Refused to Handle Bonds, Says Butler

Republican National Chairman Denies He Had Anything to Do With Hays' Activities.

Boston, March 12.—Chairman William M. Butler of the Republican national committee said today he refused to handle $50,000 in Continental Trading Company bonds sent him by Will Hays. In a statement to newspaper men, Butler said he would testify tomorrow before the Senate Teapot Dome committee regarding the bonds.

"My attention has been called to a United Press story from Washington, March 12, relating to investigation of certain campaign contributions now being conducted by the Senate committee on public lands," Butler said.

"The statement is made that in 1923 I called on Mr. Hays to help raise money for a campaign deficit of $600,000 which he incurred in the campaign for the election of President Harding in 1920.

"That statement, so far as it concerns me, is malicious and false.

"I had nothing to do with Mr. Hays or his activities. The evident purpose of the person who gave utterance to this statement is to place responsibility for the collection of the Sinclair money first on Hays and then on me, as Hays promoter.

"I will not stand for it, for it is not true."

P. A. Royston of Graham was in Maryville Saturday afternoon on business.

ARGUMENT ON THE AIR

The British government has maintained a ban on the broadcasting of speeches or statements "involving political, religious or industrial controversies." That is a pretty broad ban. It has been impossible to enforce it completely. Bernard Shaw and others have either refused to broadcast, or defied the order. Now the government removes the prohibition.

This is sensible and inevitable. The traditional right of free speech seems to be involved in this new form of communication. There is also an analogy to a free press. The only excuse for radio censorship in a free country like England or America is to avoid offense to listeners. But surely the listeners can attend to that themselves. Their rights are in their own hands. All they have to do if they don't like what a speaker is saying is to tune out.

But as a matter of fact, people dote on controversy. That has been shown in this country by the avidity of the radio public for broadcast debates.

The only rules necessary are to avoid indecency and give both sides a chance.

BARBS

They say President Machado rules the opposition in Cuba with an iron hand, conditions being the same as if Coolidge tried to suppress the Democrats. The idea in the country, however, is not to suppress the Democrats, but to goad 'em on.

Women voters are to meet in Chicago in April to study city rule. It's usually pretty hard to get interviews with gang leaders, they say, but an easy matter in Chicago.

Urge 20 Amendments to Norris Resolution

Washington, March 12. — Twenty amendments to the Norris Muscle Shoals resolution were urged upon the Senate today as debate started under a rule limiting each speaker to 15 minutes.

Senator Harrison, Democrat, Mississippi, asked adoption of his amendment providing for equitable distribution of surplus power from the Tennessee river project to cities within transmitting distance.

W. W. Walden Unimproved.

W. W. Walden of near Arkoe, who is confined to his home with sleeping sickness, remains the same today. He is able to take some nourishment. This is the seventh day since he passed into a semi stupor.

Second Operation for W. O. Garrett Success

Mayor W. O. Garrett, who was operated on for the second time at the Mayo Hospital at Rochester, Minn., passed through it successfully, according to a telegram received today by a brother, M. K. Garrett. Mayor Garrett may be able to return to Maryville in about two weeks, the family believes.

2 Wounded by One Bullet.

Kansas City, Mo., March 12.—Two Kansas youths were wounded by the same bullet early today while walking on the Missouri side of the state line. A bullet fired by a man on the Kansas side struck Joe Hugh's left leg and was deflected upward, apparently, into the right hip of Kenneth Brooks. Both were taken to a hospital at Kansas City, Kan.

Go to Iowa City.

the hope that Congressman Faust may find it possible to continue as the representative from this district. Whatever his decision may be, the Republicans of Nodaway County will give to him the same loyal and enthusiastic support he has received in the past and which his exceptional abilities and exalted character so richly deserve.

Clements Endorsed.

"Resolved, That we feel an especial satisfaction in the work of Dr. Ed B. Clements as national committeeman and of Mrs. Grace Semple Burlingham as national committeewoman, as the representatives of Missouri Republicans in the councils of the National Republican Committee, and that we unanimously endorse the record of these two leaders and instruct our delegates to use every honorable means to assure their re-election to the positions they now hold as members from Missouri of the National Republican Committee.

"Resolved, That we recommend W. F. Phares as one of the two district delegates from this county to the congressional convention to cast the entire vote of this county for him as such delegate.

"Respectfully submitted,

"T. F. MERRIGAN, JR.
"MISS RUTH HOPPLE
"MRS. MARY GEYER

Committee Picks Delegates.

A committee composed of one member from each township was named to select the list of delegates to the congressional convention and state convention. These members were: Atchison, Charles C. McDermott; Grant, Mrs. Belle Ankron; Green, Hubert Garrett; Hopkins, J. H. Thompson; Hughes, Fred Kemper; Independence, Lloyd Reddick; Jackson, Joseph Powell; Jefferson, P. R. Growney; Lincoln, Basil Livengood; Monroe, Earl Stevenson; Nodaway, Mrs. C. E. Cossins; Polk, W. F. Phares; Union, U. A. Anderson; Washington, Carl Wray; and White Cloud, Mrs. Harry Wamsley.

The reports of the credentials, permanent organization and order of business and resolutions were adopted. The permanent organization recommended the temporary officers of the convention, Lowell Livengood as chairman and Miss Olive Carpenter as secretary, be made permanent. The order of business was taken up by the report of the credentials committee, then the resolutions committee, to be followed by the selection of the delegates to the district convention and the state convention.

Mrs. King Speaks.

Mrs. F. S. King of Maryville, vice-chairman of the Republican county committee, addressed the convention on raising $1 from each Republican woman as suggested by Mrs. Burlingham and Mrs. L. Cunningham, vice-chairman of the Republican state committee. M. I. Rose of Clearmont also addressed the convention.

Livenwood Chairman.

The meeting was called to order by E. C. Curfman, chairman of the Republican county committee. Lowell Livengood of Maryville was selected as temporary chairman with Miss Olive Carpenter of Clearmont as temporary secretary.

Mr. Livengood, in accepting the chairmanship, discussed the Republican record in both national and state affairs and concluded by urging the party to work together and to co-operate for Republican victory this fall.

Three committees of five members each were appointed by Mr. Livengood after a motion to that effect was made by Mr. Curfman and adopted. The members of these committees selected were:

Resolutions—J. F. Hull, Polk; T. J. Merrigan, Jefferson; L. R. Sims, Nodaway; Ruth Hopple, Hopkins; Mrs. Mary Geyer, Hughes.

Credentials—Martin Lewis, jr., Polk; Carl Wray, Washington; H. C. Bailey, Green; Mrs. Harry Wamsley, White Cloud; Miss Gertrude Stalling, Grant.

Permanent organization and order of business—John Sewell, Polk; I. A. Goodson, Jackson; Mrs. Wilbur Smith, Union; M. I. Rose, Atchison; and Mrs. J. R. Masters, Monroe.

All Resolutions to Committee.

A motion, made by Walter Bussell of Hughes township and adopted, was to the effect that all resolutions be presented to the resolutions committee instead of bringing them up from the floor.

At the Lincoln township meeting held Saturday afternoon at Elmo, the Republicans there endorsed as their candidate for president, Charles G. Dawes, vice-president.

MARCH 12
By United Press.

Former Governor Frank O. Lowden, in an interview with the United Press said that the issue in the forthcoming campaign was economics rather than prohibition.

James R. Howard, first president of the American Farm Bureau, praised Herbert Hoover for work he had done for the farmers.

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, said that Governor Smith of New York and Herbert Hoover were at present the outstanding presidential candidates. He added, however, that it was too early to make predictions.

ment," and believes the airplanes will play a more and more important part both in military and naval operations and in transportation.

Would Unite Departments.

He suggested as a logical ultimate development, though not necessarily one of immediate importance, the unification of the war and navy departments into a single department of national defense with three subdivisions of equal rank—army, navy and air corps.

Lowden is an opponent of long standing of bureaucracy in government. He pointed to his record as governor of Illinois, when he consolidated 125 administrative bodies into nine executive departments, as an indication of what he believed should be done with the national government. In magazine articles and speeches for many years he has urged reorganization of the machinery of the federal government, with a permanent undersecretary in each department and cooperative work to climateon of duplication of effort and conflict of the duties.

"Representative gavernment is on the defensive," he wrote in a recent article. "I have an abiding faith that it will yet overcome its foes; but only because we shall make it function better and better all the time; and this can be accomplished only when we have applied the same scientific method to government which we have applied elsewhere."

With Coolidge on Most Points.

Lowden expressed accord with the Coolidge administration on most points of foreign policy.

He said the offenders in the oil scandal should be punished.

He is not in favor of a government-operated merchant marine.

"I am opposed as a general proposition," he said, "to government operation of any activity which can at all be satisfactorily handled by private interests."

THE "INSIDE" OF HAYS DEAL

said to have taken the bonds at first and then when the Teapot Dome investigation later began making exposures, they refused to handle the bonds and turned them back.

More details about the final disposition of the bonds may be learned from the hearings tomorrow when Butler, Hays and perhaps Mellon will take the stand. Butler is being called to ascertain if he received any of the bonds or knows anything about them.

Hays is being summoned for questioning about why he did not reveal his transaction with Mellon the last time he was on the stand. Mellon may be requested to testify under oath to the facts he releated in his letter Saturday night to Senator Walsh of the investigating committee. In his letter Mellon says Hays sent him $50,000 of the bonds, but he would not take them and sent them back to Hays with a $50,000 contribution.

Refund Urged by Borah.

While those facts were being developed, Senator Borah of Idaho wrote Butler on March 5, asking Butler to start a movement to raise $160,000 so that Sinclair could be repaid all the money he had given the party. "The whole transaction, even the payment to the representative of the party, had in view an ulterior and sinister purpose," Borah told Butler. "We cannot in self respect or in justice to the voters of the party, keep the money." Borah suggested that Republicans throughout the country be requested to pay $1 each to a fund.

The United Press learned that Butler sent an answer to Borah recently. Borah declined to give out the letter, saying he expected that Butler would make it public later. It is understood that Butler's answer does not take kindly to Borah's suggestion.

"I haven't heard of any movement to raise the money except the suggestion I made in my letter," Borah said today.

The new series of developments was stirred up Saturday when the committee found a memorandum among Pratt's private papers indicating that "Butler, Andy, DuPont and Weeks" were involved in handling of the bonds. Walsh sent a copy of the testimony to Mellon, who has been known to his intimate friends as "Andy." Melion a few hours later wrote Walsh a letter. That was the letter in which Mellon denied keeping the $50,000 in bonds which Hays sent him.

Fire Badly Damages Theodore Gray Home

Loss Estimated at $2,000 as Result of Blaze Sunday Afternoon.—Furniture Saved.

The residence of Theodore Gray, 402 East Sixth street, was damaged by fire about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon to the extent of $2,000. The loss is covered by insurance. The exact origin of the fire is not known, but it is believed to have been caused by defective wiring or from the flue.

All of the furniture was saved and only a few small articles were lost or damaged by water.

Mrs. Gray was the only person in the house at the time the fire broke out, Mr. Gray and son, Junior, both being away. Mrs. Gray had just awakened from a nap when a boy in the neighborhood informed her that the roof of the house was ablaze. It had gained considerable heaway under the rafters and by the time the fire department had arrived was blazing furiously. The roof was destroyed and the interior damaged by water.

The furniture was moved in the vacant house on East Sixth street owned by Albert Appleby. Last night the family slept in the hatchery owned by Mr. Gray, although neighbors offered them lodging.

Mr. Gray said this morning that he thought the house would be rebuilt.

Burlington Junction Home Badly Damaged

Most of H. N. Oxford's Furniture Is Destroyed Also by Fire Saturday Night.

The house occupied by H. N. Oxford at Burlington Junction was partly destroyed by fire. The cause is unknown.

Mrs. Oxford and children were in bed at the time. She was awakened by a strange noise, opened the bedroom door and found the entire front room ablaze. She at once awoke the children and, breaking out the bedroom window, ran to a neighbor's home and gave the alarm.

The Burlington Junction fire company made the run in record time and arrived in time to save part of the building.

The bedroom and sitting-room were badly destroyed, not a piece of the furniture being saved. The kitchen damaged some by the water, was saved from being a total loss.

The household goods were covered partly by insurance, and the house was also covered by insurance.

This was Burlington Junction's second fire this year.

This and That

The Democrat-Forum has a poem (that's what we decided it was) from a writer who prefers that his identity not be revealed—which is easily understood. It's about some Nodaway county folks who went to the Ozarks, and then displayed the extremely good judgment of returning to Nodaway, and that isn't a slam at the Ozarks, either. The writer himself is a former resident of the county, now living at Roy, Mo., wherever that is.

Anyway, here's the effusion:

Did you ever visit the Ozarks
Where the streams run crystal clear?
If you never had that pleasure
Plan a trip down there this year.

The people all are friendly
There are no "stuck-ups" there
The springs so pure are plentiful
And, O, boy, such good fresh air!

The folks down there take time to see
The beauty of their hills
They don't depend on dance mad jazz
To Give them all the thrills.

They work along in valley rich
With beauty on all sides,
They feel the joy of home life
Contentment there abides.

Just recently some folks I know,
Who live in Nodaway
Decided that they'd go down there
And claimed they meant to stay.

The man knew the Ozark timber
Was mighty hard to beat
And especially the good old hickory,
Just the kind to smoke your meat.

These young folks made a visit
But I guess times were to slow
So they got their things together—
Back to Nodaway must go.

Now here's the joke—just listen
Those folks packed all their meat
Had taken it down there with them
TO SMOKE WITH OZARK HICKORY SWEET.

They say the Ozarks are sure fine
And the water's hard to beat
It's a little slow to live there
But it's fine to smoke your meat.

Because they changed their notion
They have several bets to pay
They still look sheepish when they hear—
"Why—I thot you'd gone to stay."

The Ozark future now is bright
And the time is very near
When the mention of those fine old hills
Is made without a sneer.

So here's to good old Missouri
And here's to Nodaway.
And here's to the future Ozark hills
For they're dawning a brighter day.

—A Native of Nodaway.

McCawley Opens His Campaign at Rock Port

Reduction in the Cost of Government Is Pledged by Legislator—Urges Good Highways.

Rock Port, Mo., March 12. — State Senator A. L. McCawley opened his campaign for the Democratic nomination for governor here Saturday evening with a pledge to expose the "wasteful and at times scandalous" practices of the last two Republican state administrations. He declared that during his campaign he would discuss specific instances of Republican maladministration with which he is familiar through his activity in various Senate investigations.

"But a campaign of condemnation alone cannot bring the Democratic party back into power," McCawley declared. "We must pledge in good faith to the taxpayer that it will put a stop to the waste of public funds resulting from the duplication of work of one department by another."

"Since 1916, the biennial cost of state government of Missouri has increased in round numbers from less than $15,000,000 to $24,000,000, without increasing the efficiency of the government," the State Senator from Carthage declared. "During the same period the assessed valuation on personal and real property has increased from $2,500,000,000 to $5,000,000,000.

"Every farmer knows that it is difficult for farmers to make two per cent on the assessed valuation of their property, and that in many cases the property is assessed at much more than its actual value," McCawley said.

But despite the tremendous increase in taxation and the cost of state government the rural schools, McCawley continued, are in a deplorable financial condition. Less wasteful methods of administering the affairs of the State University, the School of Mines and the state teachers' colleges should be practiced, he declared.

McCawley pledged his support to the $75,000,000 road bond proposal and to some measure for the relief of farmers, including reduction of levee and drainage taxes. He made no mention of prohibition.

The budget system of state finances might prove cheaper in dollars and cents but not in the value of service purchased for the tax dollar, McCawley said. The adoption of a proper budget system would enable the taxpayer to see where his money is going and demand a more efficient proportionment of it, however, McCawley said.

St. Joseph Gazette Is Sold to News-Press

Morning Paper to Be Continued but Both Will Be Published From Same Plant.

St. Joseph, Mo., Mar. 12.—The St. Jaseph Gazette, for the past two years published by M. M. Levand, has been sold to the News corporation, publishers of the News-Press. The new owners took charge Sunday.

The Gazette will continue publication as a separate newspaper, but from the News-Press plant, C. M. Palmer, of Saranac Lake, N. Y., is president of the News corporation. H. A. Sprague, publisher of the News-Press will be managing editor of the Gazette, but there will be independent organizations in each paper.

Before locating in St. Joseph Mr. Levand for four years was publisher of the Casper, Wyo., Herald. Prior to that time he was general manager of the Kansas City Post for seven years.

The Gazette was founded in 1845. In its early days it was a Democratic paper, but from 1903 to 1926 it was Republican, and since has been independent in politics, as is the News-Press.

Fifty years ago, Gene Field, the poet, was a reporter on the Gazette.

The News-Press was founded in 1879 as the Daily News. It was acquired in 1889 by C. M. Palmer, of New York City who has held the majority interest ever since. In 1903 the Evening Press was acquired and the paper became the News-Press.

Emancipation to Be Found in Penitence

"Father, I Have Sinned," the Beginning of Freedom, Says Rev. W. N. Dewar.

From the words of the Prodigal Son in 15:21, "Father, I have sinned," the Rev. William N. Dewar drew the subject for his sermon yesterday morning at the First Presbyterian Church on "The Speech of Emancipation." In it he urged a more general observance of the Lenten season as a period of penitence.

"The sinful life," the minister declared, "is always a delusion. The course of sin is marked by failure, and its end is disgrace and sorrow and death. No man who ever starts out on that course has his eyes and his understanding fully opened to the dangers and pitfalls that lie ahead to engulf him in ruin. In his short-sightedness he is mistaking temporal gratifications for eternal spiritual realities, and there is sure to come to him a time of great disillusionment.

"In these days in which so many of us fail to live true to our highest conception of the Christian life we need to learn the distinction between penitence and self-pity," the Reverend Mr. Dewar said. "The latter is a weakness that needs to be despised. It can never lift us out of ourselves sufficiently to enable us to see that the awfulness of sin is not to be judged on a selfish basis but in the terms of the divine Fatherhood of God.

"Love alone can lift us out of ourselves and direct our feet along the pathway that leads to life.

"You will never go very far or rise very high in life until you have found courage in your heart to say, 'Father, I have sinned.'"

Saving of Own Souls the Work of Church

Charity, Missions, and Buildings Are Secondary, the Rev. L. E. Lakin Says.

"The Master's order to 'tarry' was not an admonition to 'idle.'" God never speaks that way to any people. The Disciples needed to know what to do before they could be sent out on their great mission. They needed to live over again their years with the Master, they needed guidance, and they needed insight into the great future," the Rev. L. E. Lakin explained in a sermon yesterday morning at the First Christian Church.

The Reverend Mr. Lakin spoke on "Making the Church Fit," and used for his text the words of Jesus, "Tarry ye in Jerusalem until ye be clothed with power from on high." Luke 24:49.

"Jesus became more and more the power in the hearts of those men while they tarried, and thought, and prayed," the minister said. "Though dead, the Master became more real. When Pentecost came, the Disciples were baptized in the Holy Spirit, and they were ready.

"And the Early Church gave concern to her own life. Those who believed continued steadfastly in the Apostle's teaching, the breaking of bread and the prayers.

"Great subjects were discussed in that old church, and men differed then, as they differ now. But differences of opinions were stimulants to thought. Differences of opinion were not allowed to hamper the work, however. Men were willing to become nothing that the Christ might be glorified. They desired to win, of course, but the one thought was to win for Him. How they settled the differences is a study and inspiration.

"In that church lived for all, and all for each. They had poverty; they had the under-privileged. As a result they simply pooled their resources, and from the common treasury they consumed as each had need. This is the only illustration of real Christian socialism of which I know," Mr. Lakin said.

"If your church depends upon sermons, of all you are the most wretched and hopeless.

"What is the great work of the congregation? The building of a house? The raising of charity funds? Getting the missionary budget over subscribed? These are all well and good, but the great work of the congregation to my mind is the building up of its own life, the saving of its own soul."

Pictures Christ as "The Friendly Man"

His Teachings Transmitted Through Friendships He Trusted, Woodhull Says.

A picture of Christ as a friendly man was drawn by the Rev. W. S. Woodhull in a sermon Sunday morning at the First Methodist Church on "Christ and His Friends."

"Among the many titles of Christ," said the Reverend Mr. Woodhull, this surely should have a place: 'The Friendly Man.' And the Gospels may well be called 'The Recollections of a Beautiful Friendship.'

"Jesus always trusted his friends," the minister continued. "He came to found a Kingdom and to teach a new way of life. A vast undertaking was this, including the whole world and all the centuries. And He trusted the success of his purpose to friendship. 'If ye are my friends, ye will keep my commandments.'

"The glad news of the Kingdom and the teachings of the New Way of life have come to us through this friendship that Jesus trusted. When the officials commanded the disciples to cease talking about their Friend, they answered, 'You must judge the right or wrong of it. But we simply can't keep from talking about our Friend Jesus.' And so the story came to us.

Friendship with Jesus spiritualizes life. The disciples in his presence discovered their unworthiness like soot lying on snow. They learned the strange habit that is still strong in the Church of loving the unlovable most. The Gospels which are only records written after many years of what they remembered best and talked about most are alive with the sense of the nearness of the Eternal God and thrilling with the Undying Life. If we do not really enjoy reading them it is because we are unspiritual.

"The end of the whole matter is that Jesus wants to be a friend to us: that He wants us to be his friends: that such a friendship transforms our lives from a narrow materialism into a fine and broad sense of the spiritual in all things.

"'O dearly, dearly did He love; and we must love Him, too. And trust in His redeeming grace, and strive His will to do'."

Says International Revival Is Needed

Peoples on "Lowest Rung" Have Capacity to Develop Through Christianity Mitchell Declares.

"The world today is in very much of a confusion. Antagonistic influences are seeking everywhere to turn the present world situation against the Christian movement. It may be strange to say but sometimes we hear of this influence even among Christian people," the Rev. R. A. Mitchell told his congregation Sunday morning at the M. E. Church, South, after discussing Methodist missions.

"We need to sit steady, think clearly, support loyally the missionary program of the church at home and abroad. The gospel that met and overcame the hatred and persecution of Imperial Rome can and will meet its enemies today with your support," the minister declared.

"The move for the present, in the eyes of the leaders of the church, is for an international revival of religion. It is the move for which the church has been calling for some years. It is one of our greatest needs.

"There is ample evidence that those, on the lowest rung of the ladder of civilization have in them the capacity to develop into educated and cultured men and women. All over the world we find evidence of backward people, abandoning cannibalistic habits, ceasing their tribal wars, improving their social and economical conditions, erecting and maintaining modern schools and hospitals and churches.

"Christianity in China has shown that the Chinese have in them the capacity to develop intellectually, morally and spiritually, equally with other people in the world. This has been demonstrated time and time again. In recent months Chinese teachers, doctors and preachers have shown that the propose to defend 'even unto death' the new meaning to human life which Jesus Christ is revealing to them. This is equally true of Japan and Korea.

"It is the great minds, not the little ones, that see great possibilities," the Reverend Mr. Mitchell said.

"When you see Jesus, in the person of a Christian worker, bending over the individual souls of men here and there, you are watching the discovering of latent powers everybody else has missed, being brought into play for the uplift and betterment of all concerned. Wherever the church has had the courage to venture upon this faith she has been justified in her venture.

"Your place and mine is in the ranks of those faithful ones who endeavor to give to every man, woman and child alive, the opportunity to become a child of God.

THE STORY THUS FAR

The Jewel case had been opened with a chisel after being battered with a poker. And this puzzles Vance when it is found near the strangled body of Margaret Odell. It makes them think two men were in the apartment, the murderer unaware of the man hiding in a clothes closet. In no way can the presence of even one be accounted for. Finger-prints lead to the arrest of Skeel, after Cleaver and Dr. Lindquist are questioned and Spottswoode's known actions eliminate him. Vance shoots a sudden question at Skeel: "Why didn't you give the alarm?"

CHAPTER 22

"Stop! Stop! Don't torture me so," Vance pleaded. "I know I'm insane. Been given to hallucinations, since birth; but—Merciful Heaven!—I've never before had one as crazy as this."

"On that point at least, my dear Vance, we are in complete and harmonious agreement," smiled Markham.

Just then Swacker came in and handed Markham a letter.

"Brought by messenger, and marked 'immediate,'" he explained.

The letter, written on heavy engraved stationery, was from Doctor Lindquist, and explained that between the hours of 11 p. m. and 1 a. m. on Monday night he had been in attendance on a patient at his sanitarium. It also apologized for his actions when asked regarding his whereabouts, and offered a wordy, but not particularly convincing explanation of his conduct.

He had had an unusually trying day, it seemed—neurotic cases were trying, at best—and the suddeness of our visit, together with the apparently hostile nature of Markham's questions, had completely upset him. He was more than sorry for his outburst, he said, and stood ready to assist in any way he could.

It was unfortunate for all concerned, he added, that he had lost his temper, for it would have been a simple matter for him to explain about Monday night.

"He has thought the situation over calmly," said Vance, "and hereby offers you a neat little alibi which, I think, you will have difficulty in shaking . . . An artful beggar—like all these unbalanced pseudo-psychiartrists Observe: he was with a patient. To be sure! What patient? Why, one too ill to be questioned . . . There you are. A cul-de-sac masquerading as an alibi. Not bad, what?"

"It doesn't interest me overmuch," Markham put the letter away. "That pompus professional ass could never have got into the Odell apartment without having been seen; and I can't picture him sneaking in by devious means." He reached for some papers. . . . "And now, if you don't object, I'll make an effort to earn my $15,000 salary."

But Vance, instead of making a move to go, sauntered to the table and opened a telephone directory.

"Permit me a suggestion, Markham," he said, after a moment's search. "Put off your daily grind for a bit, and let's hold polite converse with Mr. Louis Mannix. Y'know, he's the only presumptive swain of the inconstant Margaret, so far mentioned, who hasn't been given an audience. I hanker to gaze upon him and hearken to his rune. He'd make the family circle complete, so to speak. . . He still holds forth in Maiden Lane, I see; and it won't take long to fetch him here."

Markham had swung half round in his chair at the mention of Mannix's name. He started to protest, but he knew from experience that Vance's suggestions were not the results of idle whims; and he was silent for several moments weighing the matter. With practically every other avenue of inquiry closed for the moment I think the idea of questioning Mannix rather appealed to him.

"All right," he consented, ringing for Swacker; "though I don't see how he can help. According to Heath, the Odell girl gave him his leave a year ago."

"He may still have hay on his horns, or, like Hotspur, be drunk with choler. You can't tell." Vance resumed his chair. "With such a name, he'd bear investigation ipso facto."

Harkham sent Swacker for Tracy; and when the latter arrived, suave and beaming, he was given instructions to take the district attorney's car and bring Mannix to the office.

"Get a subpoena," said Markham, "and use it if necessary."

Half an hour or so later Tracy returned.

"Mr. Mannix made no difficulty about coming," he reported. "Was quite agreeable, in fact. He's in the waiting-room now."

Tracy was dismissed, and Mannix was ushered in.

He was a large man, and he walked with the forced elasticity of gait which epitomizes the silent struggle of incipiently corpulent middle age to deny the onrush of the years and cling to the semblance of youth.

He carried a slender wanghee cane; and his checkered suit, brocaded waistcoat, pear-gray gaiters, and gaily beribboned Homburg hat gave him an almost foppish appearance. But these various indications of sportiveness were at once forgotten when one inspected his features. His small eyes were bright and crafty; his nose was bibative, and appeared disproportionately small above his thick sensual lips and prognathous jaw.

There was an oiliness and shrewdness in the man's manner which were at once repulsive and arresting.

At a gesture from Markham he sat down on the edge of a chair, placing a podgy hand on each knee. His attitude was one of alert suspicion.

"Mr. Mannix," said Markham, an engaging note of apology in his voice, "I am sorry to have discommoded you; but the matter in hand is both serious and urgent. . . . A Miss Margaret Odell was murdered night before last, and in the course of our inquiries we learned that you had at one time known her quite well. It occurred to me that you might be in possession of some facts about her that would assist us in our investigation."

A smile meant to be genial parted the man's heavy lips.

"Sure, I knew the Canary—a long time ago, y' understand." He permitted himself a sigh. "A fine, high-class girl, if I do say so. A good looker and a good dresser. Too damn bad she didn't go on with the show business. But"—he made a repudiative motion with his hand—"I haven't seen the lady, y' understand, for over a year—not to speak of, if you know what I mean."

Mannix clearly was on his guard, and his beady little eyes did not once leave the district attorney's face.

"You had a quarrel with her perhaps?" Markham asked the question incuriously.

"Well, now, I wouldn't go so far as to say we quarreled. No." Mannix paused, seeking the correct word. "You might say we disagreed — got tired of the arrangement and decided to separate; kind of drifted apart. Last thing I told her was, if she ever needed a friend she'd know where to find me."

"Very generous of you," murmured Markham. "And you never renewed your little affair?"

"Never—never. Don't remember ever speaking to her from that day to this."

"In view of certain things I've learned, Mr. Mannix" — Markham's tone was regretful—"I must ask you a somewhat personal question. Did she ever make an attempt to blackmail you?"

Mannix hesitated, and his eyes seemed to grow even smaller, like those of a man thinking rapidly.

"Certainly not!" he replied, with belated emphasis. "Not at all. Nothing of the kind." He raised both hands in protest against the thought. Then he asked furtively: "What gave you such an idea?"

"I have been told," explained Markham, "that she had exhorted money from one or two of her admirers."

Mannix made a wholly unconvincing grimace of astonishment.

"Well, well! You don't tell me! Can it be possible?" He peered shrewdly at the district attorney. "Maybe it was Charlie Cleaver she blackmailed—yes?"

Markham picked him up quickly.

"Why do you say Cleaver?"

Again Mannix waved his thick hand, this time deprecatingly.

"No special reason, y' understand. Just thought it might be him. . . No special reason."

"Did Cleaver ever tell you he'd been blackmailed?"

"Cleaver tell me?. . . Now, I ask you, Mr. Markham: why should Cleaver tell me such a story—why should he?"

"And you never told Cleaver that the Odell girl had blackmailed you?"

"Positively not!" Mannix gave a scornful laugh which was far too theatrical to have been genuine. "Me tell Cleaver I'd been blackmailed? Now, that's funny, that is."

"Then why did you mention Cleaver a moment ago?"

"No reason at all—like I told you. . . . He knew the Canary, but that ain't no secret."

Markham dropped the subject.

"What do you know about Miss Odell's relations with a Doctor Ambroise Lindquist?"

Mannix was now obviously perplexed.

"Never heard of him—no, never. She didn't know him when I was taking her around."

"Whom else besides Cleaver did she know well?"

Mannix shook his head ponderously.

"Now, that I couldn't say—positively I couldn't say. See her with this man and that, same as everybody saw her; but who they were I don't know—absolutely."

"Ever hear of Tony Skeel?" Markham quickly leaned over and met the other's gaze inquiringly.

Once more Mannix hesitated, and his eyes glittered calculatingly.

"Well, now that you ask me, I believe I did hear of the fellow. But I couldn't swear to it, y' understand. . . What makes you think I heard of this Skeel fellow?"

Good Services Held in Skidmore Revival

Elder B. H. Dawson Conducts Question Box.—Announces Sermons for This Week.

Elder B. H. Dawson, pastor of the Christian church at Skidmore, has been preaching interesting sermons to attentive audiences for the past week, during which revival services have been in progress.

A question box has added interest to the services. Friday night the Reverend Mr. Dawson answered the question, "What is the gift of the Holy Spirit?" His answer was that the gift was the "forgiveness of sin."

In answers Thursday night, the minister said that deacons in the Christian church are the sponsors of the congregation, corresponding pretty nearly to the "stewards" in the Methodist bodies. Elders, he said, are the spiritual specialists. These correspond somewhat to class leaders in the Methodist churches. There is not a separate order of ministery in the Christian church but a preacher is among the people of the congregation as an elder. The pastors do not claim nor desire to be known as "Reverend," Mr. Dawson said, adding that the title "Elder" is prefered.

A neighbor, he said in answer to another question, as referred to in the New Testament is one "for whom we have an opportunity to be helpful anywhere."

The meetings probably will close March 18. The themes of sermons to be delivered by Mr. Dawson this week are: Monday, "The Savior's Power while on Earth."

Tuesday, "Five Indictments against Belshazzar."

Wednesday, "Four Baptisms of the New Testaments."

Thursday, "Lessons from the Four Centurians."

Friday, "Five Great Things."

Saturday, "God's Working with Men."

Sunday morning, "Three Monuments of Christianity."

Sunday evening, "The Scheme of Redemption."

Rectal Specialist Will Visit St. Joseph

Dr. O. A. Johnson, Eminent Ambulant Proctologist, at Robidoux Hotel Thursday.

Sufferers from piles and other rectal troubles in Maryville and vicinity can conveniently consult an eminent rectal specialist next Thursday. On that day Dr. O. A. Johnson will be at the Robidoux Hotel in St. Joseph from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m. He will personally examine anyone who calls without cost or obligation.

Dr. Johnson has made a name for himself as a rectal specialist. He was the first in this section to use what is known as the ambulant method of treating piles without surgery or other harsh, painful, drastic means. Over 15,000 sufferers have been cured by this non-surgical treatment. There is no confinement to room or bed, no anaesthetics, no hospital fees, no loss of time from home or work. Yet the piles are removed and cured without the danger of scar tissue, which so often follows a surgical operation. The very first treatment usually stops all pain, bleeding and protrusion, and from 4 to 6 additional ones usually cures the piles.

If you start now you will be completely cured in two or three weeks and be rid also of the many diseases so often caused by piles, such as nervousness, constipation, liver, stomach, intestinal and kidney troubles, headache, etc.

Be sure to see Dr. Johnson Thursday. He has quite a number of cured patients in this section who are extravagant in their praise of this wonderful method of curing piles. He will be glad to give you their names and addresses when you call and have you ask them about his treatment. Remember the time and place, Robidoux Hotel, from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m. Thursday, March 15. Ask the hotel clerk for Dr. Johnson's suite. A woman nurse for women patients will be in attendance. If you cannot call personally, write his office, 1324 Main St., Dept. 134, Kansas City, Mo., for his new 68-page book on rectal diseases.—Advertisement.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Yet the piles are removed and cured cleanly, entirely and permanently. Ailments like nervousness, irritability, pain in the back, groin, head; stomach, liver and kidney troubles; constipation, rundown condition, female complaints and a host of others that rectal troubles so often cause, are usually cured, too, when the piles are cured. If Back Hurts Begin on Salts

Flush Your Kidneys Occasionally by Drinking Quarts of Good Water

No man or woman can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Too much rich food creates acids which clog the kidney pores so that they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood. Then you get sick. Rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders often come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage, or attended by a sensation of scalding, begin to drink soft water in quantities; also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine.

This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to help neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer cause irritation, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and can not injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, which everyone can take now and then to help keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby often preventing serious kidney complications

Whipping Mother Now Is "Broken Hearted"

"I Want My Daughter Back," Says Mrs. Charles Woodside.—Negotiations So Far Fruitless.

Kansas City, Kan., March 12.—Efforts of "a brokenhearted mother" to regain the confidence of her 16-year-old rebellious daughter had been unsuccessful today.

Sunday Mrs. Charles Woodside, the "broken-hearted mother," conferred with her pastor, the Rev. Robert Karr. "I want my daughter back," she told the minister.

Mrs. Woodside was fined $100 in court last Friday because she whipped her daughter too severely.

Since the whipping, which was said to have been done with a clothes hanger, the daughter, Lorraine, has lived with a high school teacher.

Following the ministerial conference Mrs. Woodside agreed to a conference with Miss Inez Mackinnon, the teacher. The two women talked more than an hour and there appeared some possibility of a reconciliation.

The first move would have to come from the daughter, however, the mother said, since she was actually the instigator of the trouble.

Lorraine was at the home of Miss Mackinnon and had nothing to say. "I want to make up with mother but I know if I go back she will beat me and I am afraid," the girl previously explained.

Mrs. Woodside's attitude at first was that she intended to discipline her daughter for her rebelliousness as soon as Lorraine again was in her home. Sunday, however, the mother had promised no corporal punishment for the action of her daughter and said, a trifle bitterly, "I'll punish her before witnesses after this."

COLLEGE HERE MEANS MUCH

could care for another hundred students of college rank.

Summer schools, Mr. Lamkin predicted, will not increase in size, but are more likely to get smaller in attendance, because more teachers are finishing their preparation before beginning to teach.

The chief detriment to the college here, the speaker declared, is the twenty-three miles of dirt road between Maryville and St. Joseph.

"People in every county in the state except four—Worth, Holt, Nodaway and Atchison—can get on a hard surfaced road and go to any of the other teachers' colleges in the state," he pointed out.

President Lamkin commended the example set by Fulton in placing sign boards along the principal highways, reading "Fulton—home of Westminster College," and that of Warrensburg in proclaiming on automomile tags that that city is the home of the Central Missouri State Teachers College.

Maryville "prospers largely as the people who farm our land are prosperous," said J. F. Hull, another speaker. Mr. Hull could see "no panacea" for the farm problem and believed it working itself out.

"Any town," he added, "is affected by mass psychology. The way to make money is to spend money, and when we tighten up on spending for development, we merely accelerate the downslide. If Maryville wants to go ahead, it must do it by spending money."

Mr. Hull then urged a program of puplic building in "slack times," and a new campaign for advertising Maryville and Nodaway county.

C. F. Remus, G. E. Tunstall and L. H. Evans were others who made talks, urging more interest in the Chamber of Commerce and its work.

Final Grain Review.

Chicago, Mar. 12.—All grain futures worked around 1c higher on the Chicago board of trade today. Oats were about the only grain to show any sharp advance, their large gains being made in the closing part of the session after a weak morning session. Higher levels at Liverpool and favorable rains over the southwest boosted wheat. Corn went up on bullish condition and oats followed the advance. Final figures: wheat ⅞c to 1⅜c up; corn ⅝c to 1⅜c up and oats ¾c to 1¼ cents up.

Provisions closed higher.

The range of wheat prices was narrow most of the day in contrast to last week's sharp breaks and bulges. Liverpool cables were higher which firmed all futures early in the day. Reports of rain over southwest winter wheat fields, however, caused considerable selling after midsession and the undertone was considerably weakened. Export business over the week end was estimated at 500,000 bushels Manitobas. Receipts today were heavy at 57 cars but the cash market was steady.

Saturday's sharp break in corn caused many frightened traders to oversell themselves. Today's fractional gains were mostly the result of covering by these interests. Forecasts for rainy belt weather tonight and tomorrow helped the bulge. Heavy receipts of 524 cars were mostly high grade corn from the southwest, which went directly to elevators or industries, and did not enter the market. The cash market was depressed despite export business of 250,000 bushels worked over the week-end to Denmark.

Oats were weakened by reports that large abandoned winter wheat fields will be seeded to that grain. Receipts were heavy at 164 cars but cash oats held unchanged.

THE TITLE TO OREGON

GILMAN CITY LOSES THE FINAL GAME, 28-18.

BOTH GO TO COLUMBIA

Northwest Missouri District to Be Well Represented in State Basketball Tourney.

Oregon, eliminating Gilman City in the final game of the Northwest Missouri high school basketball tournament at the State Teachers College gymnasium Thursday and Friday of last week, won the trophy awarded by the College and merited praise, heard frequently, as "the best high school team seen on a Maryville court in many years."

The Oregon team, coached by Ivan Nigh, is comprised of five basketball artists of more than ordinary high school calibre. It has five guards, five forwards, and five centers, yet five men were all that were used throughout the entire two days of tournament play. No variation in Oregon's play from one game to another. Always were they good, not being "hot" one time and "off" the next.

The hard fighting Gilman City team, coached by Harold Neal, was well-versed in basketball tactics, and loomed up powerfully in each of the three games it won preliminary to the final tilt with Oregon. The Gilman men put Pickering, last fall's Nodaway county outdoor champions, out of the race in the semi-finals with surprising decisive negs, by a 36 to 22 score.

But the final game went to the more powerful quintet when the two good teams faced each other Saturday night.

Both to Columbia Tourney.

Both Oregon and Gilman will be entered in the state-wide tournament to be held at Columbia this week. Northwest Missouri, it can be said, is sending a strong pair to represent this stronghold of outstanding basketball teams.

Sixteen teams, the cream of basketball material of the Northwest district, were entered in this annual feature, sponsored by the State Teachers College. Two teams were privileged to enter from each of the eight sub-district tournaments. A good tourney was the result, and the managers are apparently well pleased.

The consolation flight, in which teams eliminated in the first round of play had a chance for the award offered by Bert Raines, local jeweler, went to Breckenridge, after a bitter struggle with Hale. The Breckenridge victory was by a score of 22 to 15.

Gilman City was winner of a second prize award, similar to the first but smaller. All three of the trophies were bronze statues of basketball men in action.

The final game of the championship flight, though not close, was hard fought, and good straight basketball was exhibited.

Tied at Quarter Mark.

Huff scored first for Oregon. W. Dowell tied the count, and then set Gilman ahead with a free throw. Stalcup, Oregon captain, tied the score with a charity toss. Before the quarter ended each team caged a second field goal to leave the count knotted, 5-all.

Dreher loosened the congestion after the rest with a two-pointer, but W. Dowell again tied. Dreher fouled but the attempt was muffed, and then McIntyre, field general of the Oregon camp, caked his first and second goals in quick succession and Oregon was off to a quick and steady pick-up, leaving Gilman behind until late in the third quarter when W. Dowell revived the Gilman ranks for a final spurt.

When the half whistle blew Oregon was leading 17 to 7, and at the end of the third quarter it was 21-10.

Play became furious in the fourth quarter as the Gilman quintet, led by W. Dowell, staged the best passing attack yet exhibited. With Gilman supporters pleading for a last stand, the Harrison countians outpointed their opponents by a score of 8-7, but the last quarter attack fell short by ten points.

Hale Leads at Half.

In the final tilt between Breckenridge and Hale for the consolation trophy, Hale uncorked an offensive drive that lead up to a 11 to 6 score at the half in favor of Hale. Morris proving too heavy a scorer to be stopped by the Breckenridge defense.

Within a very short time after the second half began, however, Breckenridge slipped up with great strides and gained a two point lead before Morris again tied the score at the end of the third quarter, 14-all.

S. Brooks, dangerous Breckenridge defensive man, and J. Brooks, other half of the Brooks combination, turned the stunt that sealed the game with a bombardment of the Breckenridge goal during the last eight minutes, holding Hale to a single free goal by Morris.

Richmond Plays Defensive.

The second semi-final game Saturday was won by Oregon by a tally of 17 to 11, in a slow, tight defensive game, played Saturday afternoon.

Richmond uncorked a surprising style of play at the first. Gill, tall Richmond center, took the ball as soon as it came into Richmond hands and held it for several minutes waiting for Oregon men to come after it. After considerable time the Oregon captain sent his teammates into the fight and Richmond quickly went into an offensive play, but made no score. Every Richmond maneuver was done deliberately to worry Oregon.

The first goal came to Oregon after nearly five minutes when Huff landed a one hander. Play continued on the same plan until Dreher came into possession of the ball and scored for Oregon and the quarter ended, 4 to 0, Oregon.

With the crowd "Boo-ing," Richmond became more aggressive in the second quarter, which ended 8 to 2 for Oregon. Oregon tallied first and the only time for the quarter while Richmond broke through with one by Scarbourough, then by Middleton. Middleton soon scored again. Gill then got into the fray to tie the count 10-all as the quarter ended.

Things looked different in the third quarter. Oregon tallied first, but it was the Holt county boys' only score of the period. Scarborough scored for Richmond, then Middleton counted twice and Gill tied the count at 10-all as the quarter ended.

Three field baskets and a free toss as against a single charity point gave the fourth quarter and the game to Oregon. The score:

Marathoners Leave California Behind

Arthur Newton Retains Lead as "Bunion Derby" Contestants Enter Arizona.

Needles, Cal., Mar. 12.—One state in the C. C. Pyle transcontinental "Bunion Derby" will be left behind when runners leave here today on the 20-mile uphill paunt to Oatman, Ariz., the next stopping station.

Starting the second week of the "go as you can" race from Los Angeles to New York, Arthur Newton, England and South Africa veteran marathoner, had a comfortable time lead on the field of athletes.

The remainder of the runners and walkers, however, still have many chances to partake in the $48,000 prize money in New York, for the race will take at least two months.

Newton has been maintaining a tireless but fast trot that has given him an elapsed time of 44:49:30 for the 296 miles covered.

Andrew Payne of Oklahoma followed Newton in time elapsed with 49:35:02 for the 296 miles.

John Cronick of Canada Sunday showed his heels to Newton to finish first in the 57-mile lap from Danby to Needles. He made the distance in 8:44:20. Newton came in second with 8:49:30, while Payne finished the lap in third position in 9:35:30.

The runners today will leave the hot, dry Mojava desert country behind them. That stretch has taken a large toll from the ranks of the Marathoners. Each day witnessed many favorites and potential "dark horses" dropping out of the contest.

The going from now on will be easier, but with few exceptions the laps will be longer.

Dallas, Tex., Mar. 12.—Loren Murchison, sprinter, who was near death for several weeks at Decatur, Ill., with spinal meningitis, is recovering here. He said he hoped to enter track competition after his recovery.

ELMO WINNER OF TOURNEY

GRAHAM BEATEN IN AN EXCITING FINAL GAME, 25-22.

CONSOLATION IS CLOSI

Ravenwood Wins That Flight After Two Play-Off Periods With Hopkins.

Elmo won its own tournament, held Saturday on the Elmo floor, by defeating Graham in the finals in a fast and exciting game, 25 to 22. It was anybody's game until the final whistle.

Elmo led during the first half, 10 to 9. Graham took a short lead in the third quarter but was overtaken in the final division in a hard-fought battle that lasted to the finish.

Calfee's floorwork was the only outstanding example of individual starring.

Ravenwood copped the consolation finals in a second tight game from Hopkins, winning 19 to 17 after two extra play-off periods. The game was even throughout, Ravenwood leading at the half, 10 to 9. When the final whistle blew, the score was knotted 17-all. No scores were made in the first addition of five minutes, but in the second play-off period Ravenwood found the hoop with the tally that won the game.

Elmo defeated Hopkins in a close game, 28 to 24, in the first game of the first round, played Saturday morning. With Elmo's second team on the floor during the second half Hopkins gained steadily to endanger Elmo's lead and even when the regulars came back they had some difficulty holding the Bulldogs.

The other morning game went to Graham, which trounced Clearmont 47 to 13.

Elmo won easily from St. Pats, Maryville, 32 to 12. In the second afternoon game Graham defeated Ravenwood, 28 to 10, to complete the round.

Hopkins won the first game of the consolation flight from Clearmont in one of the closest games of the tournament. The score was 21 to 20. Hopkins used substitutes during first half and this combination failed to score, while Clearmont tallied six points. In the latter half, Hopkins regulars were barely able to nose out Clearmont by one point, tossing the winning basket in the last five seconds to play.

Ravenwood defeated St. Pats in the second consolation game, 34 to 11.

The teams entered were Hopkins, Ravenwood, St. Pats, Graham, Clearmont and Elmo.

Jack Sharkey Gets His Chance Tonight

Knock-Out of Johnny Risko Will Give Him Tunney Bout, But Johnny Is Tough.

New York, Mar. 12.—Broadcasting of the bout between Jack Sharkey and Johnny Risko, heavyweights from the ringside at Madison Square Garden tonight is expected to begin at 9:30 o'clock, eastern time.

The stations which will broadcast Graham McNamee's detailed descriptions are WJZ, New York, WLW, Cincinnati, and KDKA, Pittsburgh.

New York, Mar. 12.—All Jack Sharkey of Boston has to do to get himself a fight with Gene Tunney this summer is to knock out Johnny Risko of Cleveland in fifteen rounds, or less, in Madison Square Garden tonight.

Betting commissioners think so well of Sharkey's chances that they are betting 13 to 5 on the Bostonian to win and even money that he stops Risko before the final bell.

Risko, who was baking bread five years ago, has ruined more than one heavyweight's championship aspirations and it may fall the lot of the Pudgy Clevelander to eliminate Sharkey from the heavyweight picture.

In his training here, Sharkey appears in magnificient shape and looked every inch the challenger for the world's heavyweight title.

A defeat for Sharkey would upset all the best laid plans of Tex Rickard and, unless Jack Dempsey decides to return to the ring, Tex might have difficulty promoting one title bout this year, much less the two Tunney wants.

RAVENWOOD WINS ALBANY TOURNAMENT

Nodaway Girls Also Place Two Members on All-Star Sextet for District.

In the third annual Northwest Missouri basketball tournament for girls, held at Albany last week, Ravenwood, Nodaway county representative, won the championship and placed two girls on the all-star team after winning from Albany girls in the final tilt Saturday night, 49 to 44.

Ravenwood rode through the first round on a bye. Winning from Savannah, with whom they have split honors this season in previous contests, they went into the finals with Albany. This game was a fight to the finish, Albany first gaining the lead, only to be overcome before the half by the Ravenwood sextet. Play in the latter half was equally close. The guard section of each team was weak, Coach Steiger of Ravenwood said, and was unable to hold the opposing forwards. He added that Ravenwood's victory was made possible by the strength gained at center by Goodson, Ravenwood tilt-girl.

The all-star team was as follows: Conn, Ravenwood, forward; Hunterson, Ravenwood, running center; Pulsifer, Albany, forward; Brownlee, Savannah, jumping center; Arkinson, Albany, guard; Grace, Albany, guard.

The lineups:

Ravenwood: Conn, 14 field goals and 3 free throws; Comer, f., 8 field goals and 2 free throws; Goodson, jc, Hunterson, rc; Bogue, g; Bishop, g; Wygal, g.

Albany: Pulsifer, f, 12 field goals; Atkinson, f, 8 field goals, 4 free throws, Fee jc, George rc, Gibany g, Grace g, Pearman g, Miller g.

BEARCATS WIN FIRST CLASH

SOUTHWEST OKLAHOMA TEACHERS TURNED BACK 42-32.

UNGLES SCORING STAR

Diminutive Forward Gets Nine Field Goals in National Basketball Tournament.

At 3:20 this afternoon word was received that the Bearcats' next game had not been scheduled.

Kansas City, Mo., Mar. 12.—The National A. A. U., basketball tournament entered its second day in Convention Hall this morning with the Northwest Missouri Teachers of Maryville, Mo., turning back Southwestern Teachers College of Weatherford, Okla., 42 to 32 in the opening game.

Maryville gained an early lead and remained a jump or two in the lead until the end. The play of Ungles, forward, and Burks, all M. I. A. A. conference center, featured the Maryville attack.

In front at the half, 23 to 13, the Teachers, passed, pivoted and dribbled their way around the Southwestern guards to remain a safe distance in front throughout.

Few long shots were attempted. A majority of the goals being scored at close range.

John Price who is in Kansas City to "see the Bearcats all the way through," said by telephone this morning that the Maryville victory over the strong Southwestern Oklahoma Teachers "wasn't so very very good."

The Bearcats' floor work, he said, was brilliant, but they were missing many shots, including short ones and "set-ups" beneath the basket.

Coach H. Frank Lawrence started Burks, Hedges, Ungles, Iba and Harris. Donald ("Red") Berst, star guard of last year's Bearcat team, now coach at Rock Port high school, replaced Iba after about five minutes of play, and, according to Mr. Price, "looked fine."

Ungles was the high scorer of the game, with nineteen points.

Scores of other morning games were:

Omaha K. of C., 32; McKendree College, Ill., 25.

Dallas A. C., Dallas, Tex., 43; Jeffersonville Elks, Jeffersonville, Ind., 23.
